SPECIAL OPERATIONS

Due to recent public pressure, French President Emmanuel Macron has announced a new parliamentary committee will review a possible repeal of the 2015 Intelligence Act. The Act, created in the wake of the Charlie Hebdo terrorist attacks, has allowed NITE Team 4 and our allies important access into domestic communications within France.

Macron is set to release the details of the committee in the coming days. Infiltrate Macron's network, and determine who he is planning to appoint as the committee chair. From there, we can decide how best to ensure the Act is not repealed, so we will not lose critical intelligence gathering capabilities within the country.
